HINDU PROVERBS.

Father Tignous, a missionary from India who is trying to recover his health in France, has sent the translation of several Hindu proverbs which will be found interesting. He has prepared these for the Field Afar:

The plant that could not be bent to the grave.

The plant that could not be bent when it was a twig will not bend when it is a branch.

A stone will wear away by the continual creeping of ants over it.

To acquire science in later years is like dyeing a dirty cloth.

There is no man who knows everything; there is none who knows nothing.

Anybody will say: I have no memory; nobody will say: I have no sense.

None is ruined by telling the truth; no one prospers by telling lies.

The flood which has passed the dam will not come back even if you cry.

Do not put your foot in the river without knowing its depth.

Even when a wound is healed a scar will remain.

If a neighbor's roof catches fire one's own is in danger.

When the cattle is on one shore, the opposite looks green, when it is on the opposite shore, the other side looks green.

A slip of the tongue is worse than a slip of the foot.

Do not believe all you hear; do not say all you believe.

QUAKER MUSINGS.

Most of us can find fault with our eyes shut.

A man can play the races without indulging in horse play.

When a woman is 71 would you say that she is just turned 17?

When fortune smiles on a man he can afford to laugh and grow fat.

Nine men are ready to believe a lie where one will believe the truth.

It is doubtful if the sailor knows as much about sales as the auctioneer.

The glove manufacturer feels that most people should be taken in hand.

The bill collector isn't the only man who feels that the world owes him a living.

The man who is satisfied to rest on his laurels is generally afflicted with insomnia.

Many a man who puts his best foot forward merely succeeds in stubbing his toe.

Sillicus—"When is a bore not a bore?" Cynicus—"When he talks to us about ourselves."

No Maude, dear; just because a girl bleaches her hair it doesn't necessarily follow that she is light on her feet.

"Faint heart ne'er won fair lady," quoted the wise guy. "And thereby probably kept out of a lot of trouble," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

THE TEN MISTAKES OF LIFE.

There are certainly more than ten mistakes which erring mortals make; but the following are sufficiently important to merit thoughtful consideration:

To refuse to yield in immaterial matters.

To endeavor to mold all dispositions alike.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To measure the enjoyment of others by our own.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

To worry ourselves and others with what cannot be remedied.

To set up our own standard of right and wrong, and judge people accordingly.

To refuse to alleviate, so far as lies in our power, all that which needs alleviation.

To refuse to make allowance for the infirmities of others.—N. Y. Weekly.

DYSPEPTIC PHILOSOPHY.

History is full of "also rans."

Even the bigamist may discover that a wife in the hand is worth two in the divorce court.

A man used to be satisfied to paddle his own canoe, but now nothing less than the fastest yacht satisfies him.

The Innocent.
Through sunlit days she sits and sings
From earliest dawn to eventide;
Her spirit's sweet but ruined strings
Thrill to the light and naught beside.
The falling night, the storm and rain,
'Tis only these that bring her pain.

Far then her reason flutters out—
She shrinks, and fears the baffled thing
That beats so helplessly about
With blinded eye and broken wing.
Could one but still that piteous sound
And cure the maiden's careless wound!

Is here a finer sense than ours—
Attuned to some more rhythmic sphere?
Since even in the time of flowers
She seems a saddened exile here;
So alien, vague and out of place—
A moon adrift in noontide space.
—Ada Foster Murray, in New York Sun.

Browned Mashed Sweet Potatoes.
Press three good-sized hot-boiled sweet potatoes through a ricer and beat into them salt and pepper to season and a heaping tablespoon of butter. Add enough milk to make quite moist and put into a baking dish. Dot with bits of butter and bake until browned on top. Serve in the same dish.

QUIPS.

To gain happiness, give it.

Remorse is merely indigestion of the conscience.

When twins arrive, either of two proverbs are appropriate—"It isn't even that Fortune knocks twice at the door," or "Trouble never comes alone."
